

Hibernation Plan

Winter is coming. Imagine that you must hibernate. Draw and write to tell what you would do.

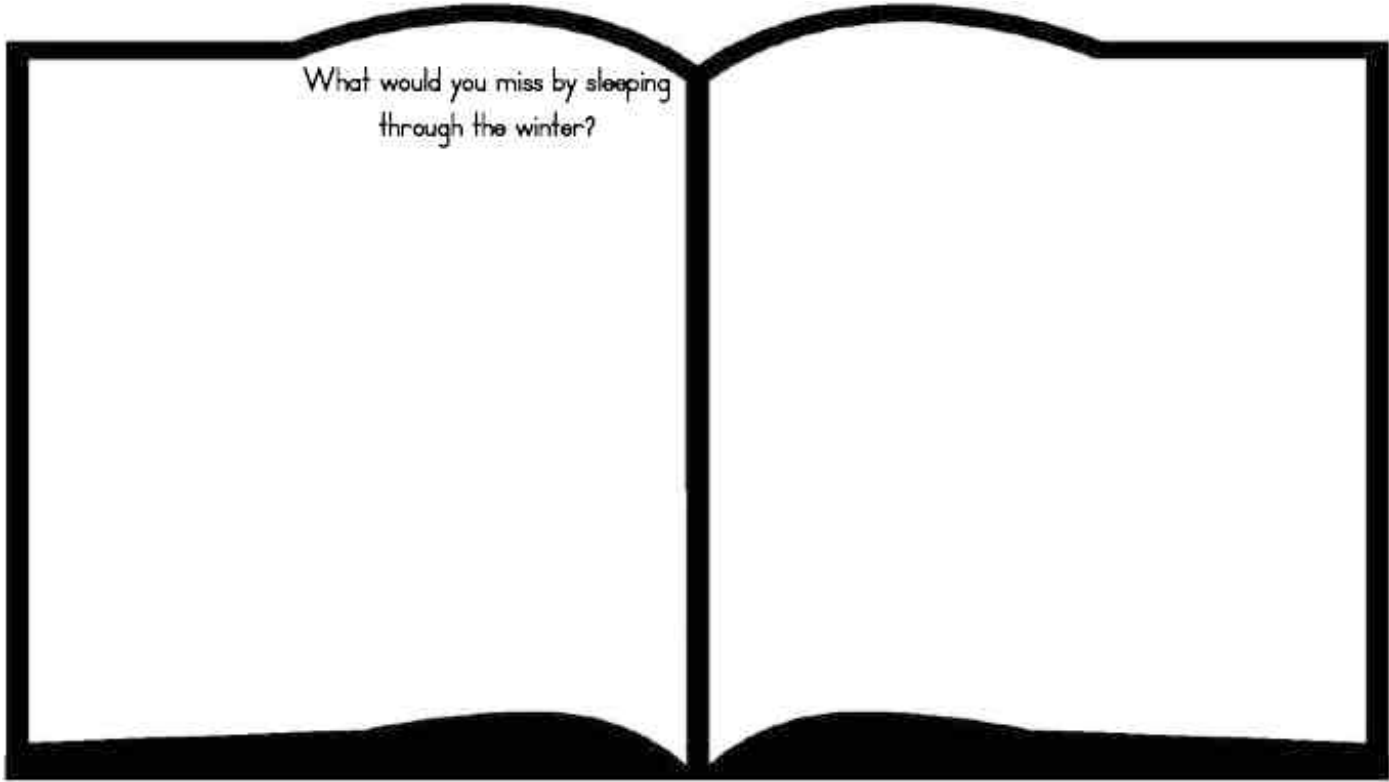

Where I would hibernate.

Things I would gather for my bed.

Other ways I would get ready.

An open book template with two pages. The left page contains the text "What would you miss by sleeping through the winter?". The right page is blank. The book has a simple black outline with a central spine and rounded corners.

What would you miss by sleeping through the winter?
